Jitter Glitter

Your first day of school...I can't believe it's here!
You're going to have so much fun this year!

Your backpack is packed and ready by the door,
School clothes set out, new shoes on the floor.

Everything you need is ready to go,
But there's one thing I must give you before tomorrow.

I know you might be nervous and even a little scared,
So I made this little charm so that you can be prepared.

Jitters are kind of tricky and they like sneak and creep.
You might not know they're coming but they can make it hard to sleep.

I made a special mix packed with Fairy Dust, Mommy Magic, and glitter.
Just sprinkle some under your pillow, it will help takeaway the jitters.

I'll put some glitter under my pillow too to help me sleep through the night,
Tomorrow is such a big day, we need to wake up happy and bright.

I'll place this charm in your backpack so my magic will travel with you.
You can hold it in your hand and know I'm thinking of you too.

I'm excited for this adventure and for what lies ahead
Sweet dreams my little love, it is now time for bed.

Love, _____
